KEYING GUIDE

KA2C

Contractor keying. Each device in the set is keyed alike. The contractor key will open every device in the set. Each set is keyed uniquely from other sets.

KA3

Master keying. Each device in the set is keyed alike, but the master key will not open the deadbolts. Each set is keyed uniquely from other sets.

KA6

Contractor keying. Each device in the set is keyed alike. The contractor key will open every device in the set. Every set in the carton shares the same homeowner key.

CONTRACTOR KEYING

Contractor Keying is a security feature that ensures the homeowner that their key is unique. The Contractor Key is the temporary master key. It gives plant personnel, dealers, and service personnel access to all homes with one key prior to homeowner delivery. However, once the homeowner takes delivery and uses their key (the homeowner key), the contractor key will no longer work.

Typical keying configuration of JM-EL42SS-KA2C. There are 2 locks and 2 deadbolts in each box. All devices in the carton are keyed-alike. There are 2 keys in each box for a total of 8 identical homeowner keys. The contractor key works in every device.
